amended by Nos 68/2009
s. 97(Sch.
item 11.1), 70/2010
s. 7(2).

(2A) A court is not required to refuse bail in the case of an accused who is serving a sentence of imprisonment for some other cause but any bail granted must be subject to the condition that the person will not be released on bail before he or she is entitled to be released under a parole order made, or which may be made, in respect of him or her;

(3) In assessing in relation to any event mentioned in subsection (2)(d)(i) whether the circumstances constitute an unacceptable risk the court shall have regard to all matters appearing to be relevant and in particular, without in any way limiting the generality of the foregoing, to such of the following considerations as appear to be relevant,
that is to say—

(a) the nature and seriousness of the offence;

(d) with an offence against this Act—

the court shall refuse bail unless the accused shows cause why his detention in custody is not justified and in any such case where the court grants bail the court—

(i) if constituted by a judge or magistrate, shall include in the order a statement of reasons for making the order; or

S. 4(4)(d)(i) amended by Nos 16/1986 s. 30, 19/1989 s. 16(Sch. item 7.2), 51/1989 s. 142(d).

(ii) in any other case, shall, as prescribed by regulations, record and transmit a statement of reasons for making the order.

(5) In granting bail a court may impose conditions in accordance with section 5.

5 Conditions of bail

(1) A court considering the release of an accused on bail must impose a condition that the accused will surrender into custody at the time and place of the hearing or trial and then will not depart without leave of the court and, if leave is given, will return at the time specified by the court and again surrender into custody.

S. 5 amended by Nos 10087 s. 3(1)(Sch. 1 item 4), 16/1987 s. 12(Sch. 2 item 3(b))², 23/1994 s. 118(Sch. 1 item 4.1(a)(b)), 97/2005 s. 182(Sch. 4 item 4), 68/2009 s. 97(Sch. items 11.1, 11.3, 11.4), 13/2010 s. 51(Sch. item 7), substituted by No. 70/2010 s. 8.

(2) A court considering the release of an accused on bail must consider the conditions for release in the following order—

(a) release of the accused on his or her own undertaking without any other condition;

(b) release of the accused on his or her own undertaking with conditions about the conduct of the accused;

- (c) release of the accused with a surety of stated value or a deposit of money of stated amount, with or without conditions about the conduct of the accused.
- (3) A court considering the release of an accused on bail may only impose a condition in order to reduce the likelihood that the accused may—
- (a) fail to attend in accordance with his or her bail and surrender into custody at the time and place of the hearing or trial; or
 - (b) commit an offence while on bail; or
 - (c) endanger the safety or welfare of members of the public; or
 - (d) interfere with witnesses or otherwise obstruct the course of justice in any matter before the court.
- (4) If a court imposes one or more conditions, each condition and the number of conditions—
- (a) must be no more onerous than is required to achieve the purposes of subsection (3); and
 - (b) must be reasonable, having regard to the nature of the alleged offence and the circumstances of the accused.
- (5) If a court is considering imposing a condition that requires a deposit of money of stated amount, the court must have regard to the means of the accused in determining—
- (a) whether to impose the condition; and
 - (b) the amount of money to be deposited.

- (6) If a court is satisfied under subsection (5) that the accused does not have sufficient means to satisfy a condition requiring a deposit of money of stated amount, the court must consider whether any other condition would achieve the purposes of subsection (3).
- (7) If a court is considering imposing a condition that requires a surety of stated value, the court must have regard to the means of a proposed surety in determining—
- (a) whether to impose the condition; and
 - (b) the value of the surety.
- (8) If a court is satisfied under subsection (7) that the accused is unable to provide a surety with sufficient means, the court must consider whether any other condition would achieve the purposes of subsection (3).

Note

Sections 12 and 21 of the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities set out a right of freedom of movement and a right to liberty and security of the person.

Sections 23 and 25 of the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities set out the rights of children in the criminal process and the rights of an adult in criminal proceedings.

Section 7(2) of the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities sets out how a human right may be limited after taking into account all relevant factors, including any less restrictive means reasonably available to achieve the purpose that the limitation seeks to achieve.

8 Application for bail

- (1) In any proceedings with respect to bail—

(a) the court may, subject to paragraph (b), make such inquiries on oath or otherwise of and concerning the accused as the court considers desirable;

(b) the accused shall not be examined or cross-examined by the court or any other person as to the offence with which he is charged and no inquiry shall be made of him as to that offence;

(c) the informant or prosecutor or any person appearing on behalf of the Crown may, in addition to any other relevant evidence, submit evidence, whether by affidavit or otherwise—

(i) to prove that the accused has previously been convicted of a criminal offence;

(ii) to prove that the accused has been charged with and is awaiting trial on another criminal offence;

(iii) to prove that the accused has previously failed to surrender himself into custody in answer to bail; or

(iv) to show the circumstances of the alleged offence, particularly as they relate to the probability of conviction of the accused;

- (d) the court may take into consideration any relevant matters agreed upon by the informant or prosecutor and the accused or his or her legal practitioner; and
- (e) the court may receive and take into account any evidence which it considers credible or trustworthy in the circumstances.
- (2) Nothing in subsection (1)(a) prevents the application of Part 3.10 of the Evidence Act 2008.

- (1) Every undertaking may with the consent of any person or persons offering himself or themselves as surety or sureties contain a provision for its extension without any further consent of the surety or sureties upon such postponements or adjournments of the hearing as are from time to time directed, but nothing in this subsection shall prejudice in any way the right of any person offering himself as surety to elect to be bound with respect to an undertaking which may be extended only with his consent given at the time of the extension and no court shall refuse to admit a person to bail on the ground only that a person offering himself as surety has so elected.
- (2) Where a hearing is adjourned or postponed the time and place for the commencement of the sitting to which the hearing is adjourned or postponed shall be stated openly by the court, and the court—
- (a) with the consent of the sureties; or
 - (b) where the undertaking of bail so provides—without the consent of the sureties—
- may extend the bail of the person charged, and thereupon the person charged shall be bound to attend at that time and place without entering into a fresh undertaking and the sureties shall be bound accordingly, or the court may make such order as to bail and as to the remand of the person charged in custody until bail is forthcoming as the court thinks fit.
- (3) Where a person charged with an offence or apprehended under a warrant is remanded in custody or committed to safe custody during an adjournment or released on bail and a court is satisfied—

18AD Determination of application for variation of the amount of bail or bail conditions

- (1) On an application under section 18AC, the court or bail justice may vary the amount of bail or the conditions of bail if it appears to the court or bail justice that it is reasonable to do so having regard to all the circumstances including, if relevant—
- (a) the nature and seriousness of the offence;
 - (b) the character, antecedents, associations, home environment and background of the accused;
 - (c) the history of any previous grants of bail to the accused;
 - (d) the strength of the evidence against the accused;
 - (e) the attitude, if known, of the alleged victim of the offence to the proposed variation of the amount of bail or the conditions of bail.

Note

Section 5 provides for the imposing of conditions of bail.

(2) In any other case, the court or bail justice must dismiss the application under section 18AC.
