S. 6(e)
amended by
No. 26/2011
s. 34(Sch.
item 2.1).

7 Meaning of discrimination

- (1) Discrimination means—
 - (a) direct or indirect discrimination on the basis of an attribute; or
 - (b) a contravention of section 17, 19, 20, 22, 32, 33, 40, 45, 54, 55 or 56.
- (2) Discrimination on the basis of an attribute includes discrimination on the basis—
 - (a) that a person has that attribute or had it at any time, whether or not he or she had it at the time of the discrimination;
 - (b) of a characteristic that a person with that attribute generally has;
 - (c) of a characteristic that is generally imputed to a person with that attribute;
 - (d) that a person is presumed to have that attribute or to have had it at any time.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), if a person with a disability is accompanied by or possesses an assistance aid, being accompanied by or the possession of that assistance aid is taken to be a characteristic that a person with that attribute generally has.
- (4) In subsection (3)—

assistance aid means any of the following that alleviates the effects of a person's disability—

 - (a) equipment (including a palliative or therapeutic device);

S. 7(3)
amended by
No. 26/2011
s. 34(Sch.
item 2.2).

S. 7(4)
amended by
No. 26/2011
s. 34(Sch.
items 2.2, 2.3).

- (b) a person who provides assistance or services to a person with a disability;

Examples

- 1 an interpreter;
- 2 a reader.

- (c) an assistance dog.

8 Direct discrimination

- (1) Direct discrimination occurs if a person treats, or proposes to treat, a person with an attribute unfavourably because of that attribute.

Examples

- 1 An employer advises an employee that she will not be trained to work on new machinery because she is too old to learn new skills. The employer has discriminated against the employee by denying her training in her employment on the basis of her age.
- 2 A real estate agent refuses an African man's application for a lease. The real estate agent tells the man that the landlord would prefer an Australian tenant. The real estate agent has discriminated against the man by denying him accommodation on the basis of his race.

- (2) In determining whether a person directly discriminates it is irrelevant—
- (a) whether or not that person is aware of the discrimination or considers the treatment to be unfavourable;
 - (b) whether or not the attribute is the only or dominant reason for the treatment, provided that it is a substantial reason.

9 Indirect discrimination

- (1) Indirect discrimination occurs if a person imposes, or proposes to impose, a requirement, condition or practice—
 - (a) that has, or is likely to have, the effect of disadvantaging persons with an attribute; and
 - (b) that is not reasonable.
- (2) The person who imposes, or proposes to impose, the requirement, condition or practice has the burden of proving that the requirement, condition or practice is reasonable.
- (3) Whether a requirement, condition or practice is reasonable depends on all the relevant circumstances of the case, including the following—
 - (a) the nature and extent of the disadvantage resulting from the imposition, or proposed imposition, of the requirement, condition or practice;
 - (b) whether the disadvantage is proportionate to the result sought by the person who imposes, or proposes to impose, the requirement, condition or practice;
 - (c) the cost of any alternative requirement, condition or practice;
 - (d) the financial circumstances of the person imposing, or proposing to impose, the requirement, condition or practice;
 - (e) whether reasonable adjustments or reasonable accommodation could be made to the requirement, condition or practice to reduce the disadvantage caused, including the availability of an alternative requirement, condition or practice that would achieve the result sought by the person imposing, or proposing to impose, the requirement, condition or practice but would result in less disadvantage.

- (4) In determining whether a person indirectly discriminates it is irrelevant whether or not that person is aware of the discrimination.

Examples

- 1 A store requires customers to produce photographic identification in the form of a driver's licence before collecting an order. This may disadvantage a person with a visual impairment who is not eligible to hold a driver's licence. The store's requirement may not be reasonable if the person with a visual impairment can provide an alternative form of photographic identification.
- 2 An advertisement for a job as a cleaner requires an applicant to speak and read English fluently. This may disadvantage a person on the basis of his or her race. The requirement may not be reasonable if speaking and reading English fluently is not necessary to perform the job.

10 Motive is irrelevant to discrimination

In determining whether or not a person discriminates, the person's motive is irrelevant.

11 Discrimination by acting with others and by not acting

It is irrelevant whether discrimination occurs by a person—

- (a) acting alone or in association with any other person;
- (b) doing an act or omitting to do an act.

12 Special measures

- (1) A person may take a special measure for the purpose of promoting or realising substantive equality for members of a group with a particular attribute.

Examples

- 1 A company operates in an industry in which Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders are under-represented. The company develops a training program to increase employment opportunities in the company for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders.
 - 2 A swimming pool that is located in an area with a significant Muslim population holds women-only swimming sessions to enable Muslim women who cannot swim in mixed company to use the pool.
 - 3 A person establishes a counselling service to provide counselling for gay men and lesbians who are victims of family violence, and whose needs are not met by general family violence counselling services.
- (2) A person does not discriminate against another person by taking a special measure.
- (3) A special measure must—
- (a) be undertaken in good faith for achieving the purpose set out in subsection (1); and
 - (b) be reasonably likely to achieve the purpose set out in subsection (1); and
 - (c) be a proportionate means of achieving the purpose set out in subsection (1); and
 - (d) be justified because the members of the group have a particular need for advancement or assistance.
- (4) A measure is taken for the purpose set out in subsection (1) if it is taken—
- (a) solely for that purpose; or
 - (b) for that purpose as well as other purposes.
- (5) A person who undertakes a special measure may impose reasonable restrictions on eligibility for the measure.

Example

It may be reasonable to restrict eligibility for a special measure to people with the attribute who are of a particular age.

- (6) A person who undertakes a special measure has the burden of proving that the measure is a special measure.
- (7) On achieving the purpose set out in subsection (1), the measure ceases to be a special measure.

13 When is discrimination lawful?

- (1) This Act does not prohibit discrimination to which a Division of Part 4 applies if—
 - (a) an exception in that Division applies; or
 - (b) the conduct constituting discrimination under that Division also constitutes discrimination under another Division of Part 4 and an exception in the other Division applies; or
 - (c) a general exception under Part 5 applies; or
 - (d) an exemption under Part 5 applies.

Example

A football club refuses to register a 15-year-old girl to participate in a football competition that is restricted to boys only. Section 72 contains an exception from discrimination on grounds of sex in relation to competitive sporting activity. If that applies to the competition, the club's refusal to register the girl will not be unlawful, regardless of whether any dispute about the refusal is brought as a dispute about discrimination in sport (Division 7), discrimination by a club (Division 6) or discrimination in the provision of services (Division 4).

- (2) An exception or an exemption referred to in subsection (1) is a defence to discrimination, and the person seeking to rely on the exception or exemption has the burden of proving that it applies.

PART 3—DUTY TO ELIMINATE DISCRIMINATION, SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND VICTIMISATION

14 Purpose of Part

The purpose of this Part is to provide for the taking of positive action to eliminate discrimination, sexual harassment and victimisation.

15 Duty to eliminate discrimination, sexual harassment or victimisation

- (1) This section applies to a person who has a duty under Part 4, 6 or 7 not to engage in discrimination, sexual harassment or victimisation.
- (2) A person must take reasonable and proportionate measures to eliminate that discrimination, sexual harassment or victimisation as far as possible.
- (3) Part 8 does not apply to a contravention of the duty imposed by subsection (2).
- (4) A contravention of the duty imposed by subsection (2) may be the subject of an investigation undertaken by the Commission under Part 9.
- (5) The duty imposed by subsection (2) is in addition to—
 - (a) a duty under Part 4, 6 or 7; and
 - (b) in the case of a person who is a public authority, a duty under section 38 of the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities.
- (6) In determining whether a measure is reasonable and proportionate the following factors must be considered—

amended by
No. 26/2011
s. 6.

- (a) the size of the person's business or operations;
 - (b) the nature and circumstances of the person's business or operations;
 - (c) the person's resources;
 - (d) the person's business and operational priorities;
 - (e) the practicability and the cost of the measures.

Examples

- 1 A small, not-for-profit community organisation takes steps to ensure that its staff are aware of the organisation's commitment to treating staff with dignity, fairness and respect and makes a clear statement about how complaints from staff will be managed.
 - 2 A large company undertakes an assessment of its compliance with this Act. As a result of the assessment, the company develops a compliance strategy that includes regular monitoring and provides for continuous improvement of the strategy.

PART 4—WHEN IS DISCRIMINATION PROHIBITED?

Division 1—Discrimination in employment

16 Discrimination against job applicants

An employer must not discriminate against a person—

- (a) in determining who should be offered employment; or
- (b) in the terms on which employment is offered to the person; or

- (d) by denying the person access to a guidance program, an apprenticeship training program or other occupational training or retraining program.

17 Employer must accommodate responsibilities as parent or carer of person offered employment

- (1) An employer must not, in relation to the work arrangements of a person offered employment, unreasonably refuse to accommodate the responsibilities that the person has as a parent or carer.

Example

An employer may be able to accommodate a person's responsibilities as a parent or carer by offering work on the basis that the person could work additional daily hours to provide for a shorter working week or occasionally work from home.

- (2) In determining whether an employer unreasonably refuses to accommodate the responsibilities that a person has as a parent or carer, all relevant facts and circumstances must be considered, including—

- (a) the person's circumstances, including the nature of his or her responsibilities as a parent or carer; and

18 Discrimination against employees

An employer must not discriminate against an employee—

- (a) by denying or limiting access by the employee to opportunities for promotion, transfer or training or to any other benefits connected with the employment; or

- (b) by dismissing the employee or otherwise terminating his or her employment; or
 - (c) by denying the employee access to a guidance program, an apprenticeship training program or other occupational training or retraining program; or
 - (d) by subjecting the employee to any other detriment.

19 Employer must accommodate employee's responsibilities as parent or carer

- (1) An employer must not, in relation to the work arrangements of an employee, unreasonably refuse to accommodate the responsibilities that the employee has as a parent or carer.

Example

An employer may be able to accommodate an employee's responsibilities as a parent or carer by allowing the employee to work from home on a Wednesday morning or have a later start time on a Wednesday or, if the employee works on a part-time basis, by rescheduling a regular staff meeting so that the employee can attend.

- (2) In determining whether an employer unreasonably refuses to accommodate the responsibilities that an employee has as a parent or carer, all relevant facts and circumstances must be considered, including—
 - (a) the employee's circumstances, including the nature of his or her responsibilities as a parent or carer; and
 - (b) the nature of the employee's role; and
 - (c) the nature of the arrangements required to accommodate those responsibilities; and
 - (d) the financial circumstances of the employer; and

- (e) the size and nature of the workplace and the employer's business; and
- (f) the effect on the workplace and the employer's business of accommodating those responsibilities, including—
 - (i) the financial impact of doing so;
 - (ii) the number of persons who would benefit from or be disadvantaged by doing so;

21 Discrimination against contract workers

- (1) A principal must not discriminate against a contract worker—
- (a) in the terms on which the principal allows the contract worker to work; or
 - (b) by not allowing the contract worker to work or continue to work; or
 - (c) by denying or limiting access by the contract worker to any benefit connected with the work; or
 - (d) by subjecting the contract worker to any other detriment.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to anything done or omitted to be done by a principal in relation to a contract worker that would not contravene this Act if done or omitted to be done by the employer of that contract worker.

22 Principal must accommodate contract worker's responsibilities as parent or carer

- (1) A principal must not, in relation to the work arrangements of a contract worker, unreasonably refuse to accommodate the responsibilities that the contract worker has as a parent or carer.

Example

A principal may be able to accommodate a contract worker's responsibilities as a parent or carer by allowing the contract worker to have flexible start, finish or break times.

- (2) In determining whether a principal unreasonably refuses to accommodate the responsibilities that a contract worker has as a parent or carer, all relevant facts and circumstances must be considered, including—

24 Exception—domestic or personal services

- (1) An employer may discriminate in determining who should be offered employment in relation to the provision of domestic or personal services (including the care, instruction or supervision of children)—
 - (a) in the employer's home; or
 - (b) if the employer is in the business of providing domestic or personal services to others, in the home of the person to whom those services are provided if the discrimination is requested by or on behalf of that person.

Example

An agency employs people to provide personal care services. A woman contacts the agency and requests that it provide a carer to assist her with personal care in her home. The woman tells the agency that the carer must be female. The agency may discriminate in determining who should be employed to provide personal care to the woman as the services will be provided in the woman's home, and she has specifically asked for a female carer.

- (2) To avoid doubt, this section applies whether or not the employer is acting personally or through an agent in determining who should be employed.

25 Exception—care of children

- (1) An employer may limit the offering of employment to people of one sex if it is a genuine occupational requirement of the employment that the employees be people of that sex.
- (2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), it is a genuine occupational requirement to be a person of a particular sex in relation to employment if—
- (a) the employment can be performed only by a person having particular physical characteristics (other than strength or stamina) that are possessed only by people of that sex; or
 - (b) the employment needs to be performed by a person of that sex to preserve decency or privacy because it involves the fitting of clothing for people of that sex; or
 - (c) the employment includes the conduct of searches of the clothing or bodies of people of that sex; or
 - (d) the employee will be required to enter a lavatory ordinarily used by people of that sex while it is in use by people of that sex; or

- (a) to people of a particular age, sex or race;
 - (b) to people with or without a particular disability—

if it is necessary to do so for reasons of authenticity or credibility.

- (4) An employer may discriminate on the basis of physical features in the offering of employment in relation to a dramatic or an artistic performance, photographic or modelling work or any similar employment.

27 Exception—political employment

103 Prohibition of victimisation

A person must not victimise another person.

104 What is victimisation?

(1) A person victimises another person if the person subjects or threatens to subject the other person to any detriment because the other person, or a person associated with the other person—

(a) has brought a dispute to the Commission for dispute resolution; or

S. 104(1)(a)
amended by
No. 26/2011
s. 34(Sch.

S. 104(1)(d)(ii)

No. 26/2011
s. 20.

(e) has attended a compulsory conference or mediation at the Tribunal in any proceedings under this Act or the old Act; or

(f) has otherwise done anything in accordance with this Act or the old Act in relation to any person; or

(g) has alleged that any person has contravened a provision of Part 4 or 6 or this Part, or Part 3, 5 or 6 of the old Act, unless the allegation is false and was not made in good faith; or

(h) has refused to do anything that—

(i) would contravene a provision of Part 4 or 6 or this Part; or

(ii) would have contravened a provision of Part 3, 5 or 6 of the old Act—or because the person believes that the other person or the associate has done or intends to do any of those things.

- (2) It is sufficient for subsection (1)(g) that the allegation states the act or omission that would constitute the contravention without actually stating that this Act, or a provision of this Act, has been contravened.
- (3) In determining whether a person victimises another person it is irrelevant—
- (a) whether or not a factor in subsection (1) is the only or dominant reason for the treatment or threatened treatment provided that it is a substantial reason;
- (b) whether the person acts alone or in association with any other person.
- (4) In this section, old Act means the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, as in force before its repeal.

Division 2—Authorising or assisting discrimination

105 Prohibition of authorising or assisting discrimination

A person must not request, instruct, induce, encourage, authorise or assist another person to contravene a provision of Part 4 or 6 or this Part.

If, as a result of a person doing any of the things specified in section 105, the other person contravenes a provision of Part 4 or 6 or this Part, a person may—

(a) bring a dispute to the Commission for dispute resolution; or

(b) make an application to the Tribunal—against either the person who authorises or assists or the person who contravenes a provision of Part 4 or 6 or this Part or both of those persons.

S. 106(a)
amended by
No. 26/2011
s. 34(Sch.
item 5.2).

Division 3—Discriminatory requests for information

107 Prohibition on requesting discriminatory information

(1) A person must not request or require another person to supply information that could be used by the first person to form the basis of discrimination against the other person.

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1), it is irrelevant whether the request or requirement is made orally, in writing, in an application form or otherwise.

108 Exception—information required for purposes not involving prohibited discrimination

- (1) A person may request or require another person to supply information that could be used by the first person to form the basis of discrimination against the other person if the information is reasonably required for a purpose that does not involve prohibited discrimination.
- (2) A person who requests or requires another person to supply information referred to in subsection (1) has the burden of proving that the information is reasonably required for a purpose that does not involve prohibited discrimination.
- (3) A person who requests or requires another person to supply information referred to in subsection (1)—
 - (a) must not directly or indirectly disclose or communicate the information to any person unless it is necessary to do so for the purpose that does not involve prohibited discrimination; and
 - (b) must destroy or permanently de-identify the information when it is no longer required for the purpose that does not involve prohibited discrimination.
- (4) A person who requests or requires another person to supply information referred to in subsection (1) must not be required—

- (b) engages in any conduct that would, if engaged in by the person's employer or principal, contravene a provision of Part 4 or 6 or this Part—both the person and the employer or principal must be taken to have contravened the provision and a person may bring a dispute to the Commission for dispute resolution or make an application to the Tribunal against either or both of them.

110 Exception to vicarious liability

An employer or principal is not vicariously liable for a contravention of a provision of Part 4 or 6 or this Part by an employee or agent if the employer or principal proves, on the balance of probabilities, that the employer or principal took reasonable precautions to prevent the employee or agent contravening this Act.

PART 9—INVESTIGATIONS

Division 1—Commission may conduct investigation

S. 127
substituted by
No. 26/2011
s. 21.

127 When investigation may be conducted

The Commission may conduct an investigation into any matter relating to the operation of this Act if—

- (a) the matter—
 - (i) raises an issue that is serious in nature; and
 - (ii) relates to a class or group of persons; and
 - (iii) cannot reasonably be expected to be resolved by dispute resolution or by making an application to the Tribunal under section 122; and
- (b) there are reasonable grounds to suspect that one or more contraventions of this Act have occurred; and
- (c) the investigation would advance the objectives of this Act.

Example

An organisation has a policy that indirectly discriminates against persons with a particular attribute. The Commission has received several calls complaining about this policy and the policy has received media attention. Although some claims that the policy is discriminatory have been settled on an individual basis, the policy has not been changed. The Commission may decide that, in these circumstances, an investigation could help identify and eliminate a systemic cause of discrimination.

128 Matters referred by Tribunal for investigation

The Tribunal may refer a matter (other than a matter that is the subject of proceedings before the Tribunal) to the Commission for the Commission to consider whether the Commission should conduct an investigation.
